CAREER HISTORY

With over two decades of experience in accessibility and inclusive design, Elisa Moechtar leads Group DLA Access as Manager and Principal Access Consultant. An ACAA Accredited Access Consultant, Elisa has been shaping accessible environments since 2004 across a diverse range of project sectors—from landmark developments and cultural institutions to heritage restorations and public infrastructure.

Elisa combines a deep understanding of accessibility legislation with an appreciation for the human experience of space. Her practical, insight-driven advice supports project teams across planning, design, and construction, ensuring access outcomes that go beyond compliance to promote genuine inclusion, dignity, and usability for people of all abilities.

Drawing on her background in interior design and hands-on work with people with disability, Elisa brings a unique design sensitivity and empathy to every project. She views access not merely as a requirement, but as an opportunity to enhance equity, usability, and innovation in the built environment. Her collaborative approach empowers teams to integrate access from day one—aligning creative vision with inclusive outcomes.

Elisa has provided access consultancy services across all project stages—from feasibility and design development through to construction and occupation—for a wide spectrum of developments, including:

- Cultural & Performing Arts Venues
- Commercial Offices & Retail Centres
- Education & Health Campuses
- Aged Care & Community Facilities
- Hotels, Sports Stadiums & Entertainment Venues
- Government Buildings & Public Domain Projects
- Heritage & Adaptive Reuse Developments

She has also acted as a specialist advisor to government bodies, contributing to the development of access policies and inclusive design strategies at a systemic level.

Elisa's work continues to shape accessible environments that empower users, meet rigorous standards, and elevate the role of universal design as a creative and social imperative.
